The Islamic New Year, also known as Hijri New Year, marks the beginning of a new year in the Islamic calendar. It begins on the first day of Muharram, which is the first month in the Hijri calendar, a lunar calendar. The Hijri calendar is different from the Gregorian calendar, and the Islamic New Year is observed by Muslims worldwide.

This day commemorates the fifth Sikh Guru, who sacrificed his life for his faith and principles.

National Indigenous Peoples Day, observed annually on June 21st in Canada, is a day to recognize and celebrate the unique heritage, traditions, and contributions of First Nations, Inuit, and Métis peoples. It's a time for Canadians to reflect on the diverse cultures and histories of Indigenous communities across the country.

Father's Day is an annual observance celebrated on the third Sunday of June to honor fathers, grandfathers, and father figures. It is a time to express appreciation for their guidance, love, and support, though it is not an official statutory holiday.
